U. S. Has Poured Over $17 Billion Into Missiles

Most Has Been Spent Since Start of War In Korea in 1950

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has put more than $17 billion into research, development and production of missiles since it began work on them during World War II.

All but about half a billion dollars of the total has been programmed since the beginning of the Korean War in 1950 set off the rearmament program.

Congressional committees are investigating or preparing to investigate the whole missile program. They will try to determine whether the Pentagon has been diligent in spending the money provided by Congress and whether it has had enough funds.

Figures made available at the Pentagon today show that $17,178,000,000 has been assigned to missile programs since fiscal year 1946 and prior. The figure includes an estimated $4,638,000,000 for the current fiscal year, but does not take into account an extra billion dollars which Secretary of Defense McElroy has said he will ask from Congress.

A Defense Department summary said the total includes "the cost of bringing guided missile weapon systems to an operational status, research and development, production facility expansion and tooling, procurement, contract and military overhead to support missile testing and certain construction costs for research and development."

It does not include such items as the cost of running operational sites, like those for the Nike anti-aircraft missile.

From the time the services began analyzing captured German missiles late in World War II and studying development of their own weapons through June 30, 1946, the total missile program amounted to about 70 million dollars. During the 1947 fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, the outlay was 58 million dollars, then started climbing to 81 millions in 1948, and to 98 millions in 1949. It reached 14 millions in fiscal 1950 — which ended about the time the Communists attacked in Korea.

Although there is little evidence that the United States was aware at that time of Russia's intensifying interest in missiles, the inception of the Korean War revealed Soviet technological capability in new jet aircraft, and along with other military spending increases, the allocation for work on U. S. missiles jumped to 784 millions in fiscal 1951.

The figure rose to $1,058,000,000 in 1952, and to $1,166,000,000 in 1953.

It dropped back a bit to $1,067,000,000 in fiscal 1954, the first full fiscal year of the Eisenhower administration.

But the program outlay moved up again to $1,470,000,000 in the year ended June 30, 1955; climbed to $2,270,000,000 the next year; to $4,284,000,000 in fiscal 1957; and to $4,638,000,000 estimated for the current year.

A Pentagon spokesman said no analysis is yet available on how the missile obligation items for each fiscal year, as approved by Congress, compared with the requests from the military.

Two Traffic Mishaps Investigated by Police

Two traffic accidents causing extensive damages to the four cars involved were investigated by police Thursday afternoon and early this morning.

At 4:28 p.m. Thursday, a car driven west on Maple St. by Joseph Marra, 28, of Summitville, failed to stop at the Franklin St. intersection and collided with an auto driven south on Franklin St. by Emerson C. Pegg, 46, of East Palestine, police said.

Marra was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

A car driven by Norman Hough, 46, of 1643 Southeast Blvd. struck a car owned by William V. Corso of 875 Franklin St. and parked on Franklin St. at 1:48 a.m. today, police said.

Guatemala Seeks Political Stability

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala makes another try at regaining political stability in elections Jan. 19, but a split between the moderates and the Conservatives may open the back door to an active leftist party.

Many observers expect violence no matter what the vote count shows.

Once Communism's beachhead in Central America, this strategically located republic has been in political ferment since the assassination last July of President Carlos Castillo Armas, who kicked out the Communists in a 1954 coup.

The country was ruled by the Castillo government until the Oct. 10 elections, in which leftists were kept off the ballot. The government party, the Nationalist Democratic Movement (MDN), then claimed an overwhelming victory

Scott Gets Life Prison Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The rest of his life in prison, instead of death in the state's gas chamber, has been decreed for L. Ewing Scott.

The penalty verdict was returned Thursday night by the same jury which convicted him last Saturday of murdering his wealthy wife Evelyn, 63. She disappeared from their fashionable Bel-Air home 2½ years ago and has not been seen since.

The 61-year-old former stockbroker took the verdict calmly.

"Mr. Scott is pleased, obviously," his chief defense counsel, P. Basil Lombros, said later. "He said nothing except, 'I want to see you tomorrow morning so that we can go to work on the motion for a new trial.'"

The motion was made by Lombros when Superior Judge Clement D. Nye set Jan. 14 for the formality of pronouncing sentence. The motion can be argued then or within 10 days thereafter.

This was the first use in Los Angeles County of a new California court procedure in death-penalty cases. The jury determines guilt and punishment at separate proceedings.

Scott was convicted solely on circumstantial evidence since no trace of his wife has been found. He fled to Canada nearly a year after her disappearance and was arrested last April at the Canadian border near Detroit.

Two Drivers Cited In Highway Mishap

Two persons were cited as the result of a highway mishap on Rt. 30, three miles north of East Liverpool at 9 p.m. Thursday.

State highway patrolmen said a car driven by Lana Haddox, 17, of East Liverpool, pulled out from a private driveway in front of a car driven north by Samuel Stacey, 17, also of East Liverpool, causing a collision.

Miss Haddox was cited for failing to yield the right of way and Stacey was arrested for operating a motor vehicle on a temporary permit and unaccompanied by a licensed operator.

GOP Retirement May Greatly Aid Dems' Chances

Republicans Facing Uphill Fight to Gain Control of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The decisions of five Republican senators not to run again have tipped the odds strongly in favor of strengthened Democratic control of the Senate in next year's elections.

Retirement announcements by GOP Senators Jenner of Indiana, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, Knowland of California, Payne of Maine and Edward Martin of Pennsylvania left some gaping holes for Republican campaigners to fill.

Outnumbered 50-46 by Democrats in the Senate, the Republicans faced an uphill battle even before these five announced they would not seek re-election.

The net effect of these announcements has been to add New Jersey, California and Pennsylvania to the list of tossup senatorial races.

Payne may reconsider in Maine. If he does not, Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie would be regarded as likely to give any other Republican a hard time, provided he ran.

Indiana Republicans, although split, seem confident they won't lose a Senate seat despite the unexpected decision by Jenner to bow out. If Jenner quits before his term ends, GOP Gov. Harold W. Handley might wind up in the Senate with the expectation of running in 1958 for a full six-year term.

GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, crowded out of the race for re-election by Knowland, had expected to get the California Republican senatorial nomination with little or no opposition. But it now looks as though he faces a bitter battle in the primary next June, despite the withdrawal of at least one of his prospective opponents.

Two announced GOP senatorial candidates in New Jersey are Bernard Shanley, former appointments secretary to President Eisenhower, and Rep. Kean.

Martin's proposed retirement in Pennsylvania has not yet brought forth any outstanding GOP candidate to replace him.

There will be 20 Republican Senate seats at stake in 1958 and only 12 held by the Democrats. Of the 12, five in the South are certain to return Democrats. In six other states, Democrats are well entrenched and would be considered the favorites in re-election contests.

Only in Wisconsin does the Democratic hold look tenuous. The incumbent there is Sen. Proxmire, who was elected last summer to fill out the unexpired term of the

Former George Co. Employees To File Claim Papers

EAST PALESTINE — Former employees of the W. S. George Pottery Co. who have either back wages or vacation pay coming are asked to fill out proof-of-claim forms Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Plant One company offices.

Notaries public and company officials will assist in the process which will also include a request for the former employees to fill out and sign acceptance forms providing for the money distribution according to a refinancing plan for the pottery.

The reorganization and refinancing program of the George Pottery Co. was approved Monday by a federal judge in Cleveland, who certified a reference order back to Atty. Ross E. Diser of Youngstown, district bankruptcy referee.

The plan calls for a 100 per cent cash settlement with secured creditors, a 50-cents-on-the-dollar settlement with unsecured creditors, a change in the company's corporate setup, and transfer of debentures held by heirs of the late W. S. George to non-voting preferred stock and settlement of 60-cents-on-the-dollar.

Plas for a campaign to collect $200,000 in pledges from organizations and individuals are expected to be announced the first of next week. Jan. 10 is the deadline for collecting the money which will enable to the pottery to operate as a debt-free business with $97,000 working capital. A $250,000 small business loan was secured in November.

Afro-Asian Bloc Gets Egypt's Plan

Common Market For Economic Welfare Sought

Report By Russia Expected to Paint Communistic Lures

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt proposed today the establishment of a common market for African and Asian nations to counteract the new European common market.

The proposal was made to the economic committee of the African-Asian People's Conference which opened Thursday with the traditional slogans of Communist propaganda.

The committee heard the proposal by Abdel Razzak Hassan of Egypt behind closed doors. Some members protested that they wanted to hear a Soviet economic report before debating the idea.

The Russian report was scheduled for a plenary session later today. In the past Russia has tried to attract underdeveloped nations to communism by painting glowing pictures of her economic progress.

The European common market of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg will go into effect Jan. 1. It will throw a single tariff wall around the six nations and provide privileged access to the countries for some products from African areas connected with them.

Some independent African countries have expressed fears that they will have a harder time selling raw materials to the six. Talk of countermeasures has also been heard in Latin American nations that export to the common market area.

The Egyptian report said an African areas connected with them would promote cooperation among the nations as well as combating the European bloc.

Not a single kind word for the West was spoken Thursday by the 400 delegates from 38 nations and colonies. No more were expected today and the conference will probably go on this way until its scheduled end Jan. 1.

Since the delegations are nonofficial—some are composed of exiles—the conference is unrestricted by the normal diplomatic niceties of governments. The delegates have used this leeway to lambaste the West.

Among targets of speeches at the opening session of the Egyptian-sponsored conference were nuclear weapons tests, the Eisenhower Doctrine, military alliances and foreign military bases.

LISBON — One motorist was fined Thursday by Mayor Wilbur Warren, and three others forfeited bonds totaling $60 when they failed to appear for hearings.

Laura N. Hadley, 61, of Lisbon was fined $25 and costs for driving left of center line after her car struck an auto driven by John W. Carmen of Salineville Wednesday at 12:10 a.m. about one-half mile west of Lisbon on Rt. 30.

Francis M. Althar of Lisbon Rd. forfeited a $25 bond for reckless operation; David W. Thompson, 38, of Lisbon Rd. forfeited a $10 bond for speeding and Stephen L. Daniels, 46, of Youngstown, a $25 bond for driving without a driver's license.

Two Men Held For Passing Bogus Bills

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A photographer and a printer were in jail today on charges of manufacturing and passing counterfeit $20 bills.

Earl Banks, 29, a photographer at the Rossford Ordnance Depot, and Erskine V. Guyton, 33, a print shop operator, were arrested Thursday by Secret Service Agent Venneth Beard.

Beard said the pair told him they first discussed printing bogus bills last week after a joke about making their own money for Christmas.

Using photographic equipment at the ordnance depot and Guyton's offset press, they ran off a batch of 90 bills last Tuesday, Beard said.

The enterprise came to an end after filling station operator Louis Maran told police that Banks and Guyton tried to pass him a photo. $20. Maran took down the license number of the car they were in and authorities soon located the two men.

Beard said 87 of the 90 bills were seized. Still missing are two of the men admitted passing in Detroit and one they passed here, Beard said.

Don Gosney Seeks 18th District Post

First to file for the 1958 elections, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana entered his name today with the County Election Board to seek a full term as 18th congressional district member of the Democratic State Central Committee at the May 6 elections.

Gosney is known as the youngest county Democratic chairman in the state. He filed on his 31st birthday. Gosney also is a member of the County Election Board and a member of the staff of Congressman Wayne L. Hays of Flushing.

Gosney was appointed about a year ago to the vacancy created by the death of Earl Applegate of Steubenville. The district includes Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, and Carroll Counties.

Contracts For Supplies Let

City Board Acts On Submitted Bids

Contracts for city supplies for the year 1958 were awarded by the city board of control at a meeting yesterday, following a study of bids which were opened last week.

The board is composed of Mayor Dean Cranmer, Service Director James Felier and Safety Director R. J. McConner.

Contracts were awarded as follows:

Parking meters: $56.50 each, Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co., Oklahoma City.

Traffic paint: Yellow, $2.95 gallon, white, $2.70; Salem Tool Co. Fire hydrants: $149.50 each; A. P. Smith Mfg. Co., East Orange, N.J.

Radio maintenance service: $85 a month, Russell C. Jones.

High test gasoline for police cruisers: Two-cent discount on the pump price; detergent oil, 25 cents gal.; Bichsel Service station.

High test gas for fire trucks: 20½ cents gal., plus tax; Cross Oil Co.

Gasoline: 16½ cents gal., plus tax; detergent oil, 34 cents; kerosene, 16 cents gal.; chassis grease, 12 cents pound; Cross Oil Co.

Light bulbs: 20 per cent discount broken cases; 32 per cent discount standard lots; Julian Electric Co.

Rock salt: $14.50 a ton carload shipment; $16.30 bulk, 20-ton minimum; Morton Salt Co., Wadsworth, O.

Slag and loose material: Gurlea Sand and Gravel Co.

Granulated slag: Standard Slag Co., Youngstown.

Coal: Run of mine, $6.85 ton; stoker, $6.50; lump, $7.75; Tony Colian and Son.

Ready-mix concrete, sand, cement, blocks: Salem Concrete and Supply Co.

Crude oil and blacktop materials: Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton.

Nuclear Radiation Becoming Important Tool of Industry

By DUKE YATES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Within a few years, the American housewife will find on her grocery shelves perishable foods such as meats and dairy products in sealed plastic bags that can be stored almost indefinitely without refrigeration.

The food will have been preserved by nuclear radiation. Nuclear radiation—something which most associate with the fallout from atom bomb blasts—is becoming an important tool of science and industry.

It may even do more to change our way of life than the more widely publicized benefits of atomic power, says Dr. H. R. Nelson, director of Battelle Memorial Institute's nuclear research program and an authority on the peaceful applications of nuclear science in an interview with the Associated Press.

Only One of Many Uses

Preservation of food is only one of the many practical uses of radiation, Dr. Nelson said. The day is not far off when radiation will be used to sterilize drugs and medicines as well as bulk quantities of raw foodstuffs such as grain stored in grain elevators.

More radiation work will be done with substances which have been made intensely radioactive by placing them near the core of nuclear reactors. The irradiated substance, such as cobalt 60, is then used as a radiation source, much as a burning tinder is a source of fire after it has been brought into contact with a flame.

Radiation also will find application in farming and animal husbandry where it will be used to develop new and improved strains of animals through artificially induced mutation, Dr. Nelson said.

Exploring Radiation's Effect

Radiation's effect on plastics and other materials is just beginning to be explored. Experiments at Battelle, for instance, have shown that some plastics can be made more heat resistant by exposing them to intense radiation, Dr. Nelson said.

Radiation also can induce chemical reactions heretofore considered impossible, thus opening up possibilities for the development of new commercial materials, Dr. Nelson said.

Some applications of radiation already have moved out of the research laboratory and into everyday use. Radioisotopes—radioactive forms of elements—are widely used as tracers in industry and science to study once inaccessible operations. Radiation also has been used for years in the treatment of certain diseases such as cancer.

To Use Nuclear Fuel

Looking ahead to the peacetime development of atomic power, Dr. Nelson predicted that by 1975 the majority of power stations built in the United States will use nuclear fuel.

But to bring about this revolution in power, Dr. Nelson said, the public must be willing to subsidize the early stages of development.

"Right now," Dr. Nelson said, "atomic power cannot compete economically in the United States with coal-generated electric power. "It is economically feasible, however, in such countries as Great Britain, Germany and Italy where there is not such an abundance of coal for power development."

"If the United States wants to keep up with the rest of the world in the development of atomic power it must be willing to pay for the cost of the development."

Dr. Nelson said there is at this time little indication that private utilities are willing or able to pay the entire cost of this development themselves.

Why is this phenomenal source of power so expensive now? Partly because of the high cost of shielding and the surplus safety factors that are part of today's reactors, said Dr. Nelson. Another reason is that the science is new and inexpensive techniques and standardized procedures have not yet been developed.

But the primary cause for the high cost of atomic power is that no way has yet been found to utilize more than a fraction of the nuclear fuel's potential, Dr. Nelson explained.

"It is as if you had a coal-fired power station in which after 10 or 15 per cent of the coal was burned you had to shut down the plant, haul the coal out of the furnace and reprocess it or throw it away. Yet that is exactly what we have to do now with nuclear—fueled power stations."

Used in Form of Plates

The reason for this low percentage of fuel utilization is that uranium—the nuclear fuel—cannot be dumped into the reactor as coal is dumped into a furnace. Uranium can only be used in the form of plates called fuel elements.

But the intense radiation is a reactor's core—the furnace of a nuclear power plant—is so intense it destroys the plates in a comparatively short time.

"How to preserve fuel elements from disintegrating in order to achieve a higher 'burn up' of uranium fuel is the principal problem in the design of nuclear reactors," Dr. Nelson said.

Dr. Nelson said he believes that even in its present inefficient state, however, nuclear power can be economically utilized to propel ocean-going vessels. In a few years, he said, a way will probably be found to use it economically in airplanes and possibly even trucks and trains.

There will have to be technological developments undreamed of today, however, if nuclear power is ever to propel the family car. For the long-range power needs of the world, thermonuclear rather than nuclear power will probably be the answer, Dr. Nelson said.

Must Find Method of Control

No way has yet been found to tame the thermonuclear—hydrogen bomb—reaction, the way atomic reactors control nuclear fission.

But Dr. Nelson pointed out that advantages over the conventional nuclear reactor power sources.

There is practically an unlimited source of heavy hydrogen—the thermonuclear fuel—in ocean water, whereas nuclear reactors depend upon uranium, a comparatively rare element.

Also, there is reason to believe, Dr. Nelson said, that radiation and radioactive wastes would be less with a thermonuclear source than with a nuclear reactor.

SPYING MACHINE—This is a model of a "surveillance drone"—an unmanned flying and spying machine, the first of its kind. It uses what the U. S. Army terms "advanced surveillance sensory devices." Called the SD-3, it is being produced by Republic Aviation for the Signal Corps. It is designed for all-weather use and has three different, interchangeable nose units for switching from one "sensing system" to another (photography, radar, or infra-red). The drone can be launched without a runway with jet assist and is recoverable.

Residents in Dayton Face 2nd Week Without Local Papers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton residents today face their second weekend without local newspapers. The next attempt to end a strike of 64 mailers, which has halted publication of the two newspapers here, is a negotiation meeting Monday.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service is now conducting negotiations.

The strike against the afternoon Dayton Daily News and the morning Journal Herald, both owned by Dayton Newspapers, Inc., began a week ago today when members of Local 137, International Mailers Union, left their jobs. Members of other craft unions at the plant declined to cross the picket line.

When the strike began, company officials said wages, vacations and interchange of work between shifts of mailers were the principal issues, but union spokesmen have said wages are not in dispute at this time.

Thursday, representatives met for several hours without reaching agreement. After the meeting, Robert A. Wolfe, executive vice president and general manager of the newspapers, issued this statement:

"Another negotiating session was held this morning. At the suggestion of Dayton Newspapers, Inc., the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service was asked to take charge of negotiations."

Commissioner U. S. Young reported: "Both the company and the mailers met this morning and discussed the issues in the case. It was agreed that I should take charge of the negotiations. No agreement was reached on any of the points in dispute. Another meeting has been set for 10 a.m. next Monday."

The company has offered the mailers a $4.50 weekly increase for the first year of a two-year contract, and $4 increase the second year, the same as that accepted by other craft unions.

Wolfe said the company insists on the right to assign mail room work, but offered a separate priority list for layoffs and recalls. The mailers want the mailing room to be operated as though the two newspapers were in separate buildings. Both are in the same building.

Other building trades' unions have not, as yet, specified their 1958 contract demands.

Requesting the increase of $2 a day was the 2,200-member Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Local 17, who currently average $3.74 an hour. They filed their contract demands with the Building Trades Employers Assn. and several other groups Thursday. Current contracts in the building industry expire May 1.

"We realize this is purely a routine demand," said William J. Hunkin, vice president of the builders' association, "and are sure they don't expect to get an increase anywhere near that figure."

"The last thing the community needs in 1958 is a round of big cost increases," he added.

A 16-day strike preceded negotiation of the present contracts in 1955. The 16 unions which struck reached agreements providing wage increases of 34 cents an hour over the two-year life of the contracts. Wages increased 17½ cents the first year and 16½ cents the second year.

Other building trades' unions have not, as yet, specified their 1958 contract demands.

Woman Faces Murder Charge In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati woman was charged with murder today in the slaying of her husband but detectives traveled a rough road to bring her into custody.

The woman is Mrs. Patsy Maxey 35. She is accused of having killed her husband, Denton Maxey, 29, Dec. 13 as he tried to get into their locked apartment.

She fled after the shooting and no trace of her had been found until officers received word Thursday that she was staying with relatives in a log cabin near Buckhorn, Ky.

Detectives Wilber Stagenhorst and Eugene Moore started after her. They drove over back country roads and their car finally stalled in a creek bed. Then came a walk up the mountainside only to find that Mrs. Maxey had left three hours before.

A deputy sheriff from Buckhorn gave them a lift but his car also stalled in the mud and a farmer hauled them on to Booneville. Then they went to Beattyville where they found Mrs. Maxey in a bus station.

The officers quoted her as saying she was en route back here "to take my chances on being picked up."

Production of Chewing Tobacco Reported Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of chewing tobacco this year will be the smallest in more than 30 years, Agriculture Department record-keeping.

Output was estimated in a department report at 73 million pounds.

"Modern attitudes and circumstances of employment and living generally tend to discourage the use of chewing tobacco," the department said in a report released today.

NAMES TWO APPOINTEES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In appointments here Thursday, Gov. C. William O'Neill named Dr. Cofas S. Alvario of Toledo to the Ohio Veterinary Medical Board and renamed Mrs. Hazel McGinley of Worthington to the Ohioana Library Board.

ELITE OF THE FLEET — With the commissioning of the USS Skate, Cmdr. James F. Calvert, center, joins the select list of skippers of atomic submarines. The Skate is the third atomic sub to join the Navy's growing nuclear fleet and the second to be commissioned in 1957. The Seawolf, skippered by Cmdr. Richard B. Laning, left, was commissioned March 30. The Nautilus, commanded by Cmdr. William R. Anderson, right, was commissioned in 1954.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

First Aid for Frostbite

In extremely cold weather the blood vessels near the surface of the body contract. This is nature's defense against too much coolness; it helps to prevent large quantities of blood coming in contact with the cold and chilling the entire blood stream.

There are difficulties, however, connected with this process since if the cold contact with the skin is continued, it may lead to frostbite. This has always been a terrible problem for Arctic explorers, mountain climbers, and for members of the military forces.

In ordinary civilian life it is less often a problem, though in northern sections, every winter brings its toll of frostbite victims. The tip of the nose, the ears, the fingers and the toes are particularly susceptible to frostbite.

Health Department Seeks $32,170 In Operational Funds

LISBON — A total of $2,876.36 will be collected from the county townships and $8,293.94 from the villages for the operation of the Columbiana County Health Department in 1958.

The total of $32,170 is $7,170 more than the $25,000 collected annually from the county sub-divisions for operation of the department.

It became necessary to secure the additional funds after a twentieth mill health levy failed to pass at the November election, according to County Auditor I. J. Vorndran.

The health department had been using a surplus of money carried over annually, but a recent attorney general's opinion ruled that extra money had to be returned to the sub-divisions each year, he said.

The health department is therefore returning the approximately $30,000 accumulated in surplus funds, but is asking the subdivisions for an additional $7,170 for operation of the department next year.

A breakdown of the sub-divisions duplicates and the amounts they will return to the health department next year follows:

Townships — Liverpool, $4,324.64; $1,596.86; St. Clair, $4,383.36; $1,596.86; Middleton, $2,176.22; $803.55; Unity, $4,848.44; $1,790.25; Yellow Creek, $1,720.65; $2,635.34; Madison, $2,007.42; $741.22; Elkrun, $2,543.26; $939.08; Fairfield, $9,062.45; $3,346.23; Washington, $1,497.66; $553.00; Wayne, $664.43; $245.34; Center, $4,416.94; $1,630.91; Salem, $3,700.82; $1,366.51; Franklin, $1,706.68; $630.15; Hapover, $3,680.12; $1,358.85; Butler, $3,483.33; $1,286.21; Perry, $4,120.48; $1,521.45; West, $4,327.32; $1,597.83; Knox, $5,998.94; $2,215.06.

Villages — Columbiana $9,233.96; $3,409.57; Lisbon, $6,023.34; $2,224.07; Leetonia, $3,202.07; $1,182.34; Rogers, $228.48; $84.36; New Waterford, $738.13; $272.55; Salineville, $1,142.23; $421.76; Washingtonville, $531.70; $196.33; Hanoverton, $549.16; $202.77; and Summitville, $812.18; $299.89.

Coming Up To The Starting Gate

Whatever else 1958 holds in store, one thing can be foretold with certainty, here will be state and congressional elections.

Many of the presidential hopefuls of 1960 will make trial runs. They are coming up to the starting gate from all directions.

Out in California, Sen. William F. Knowland is going to bid for the state's governorship on a right-to-work platform. In Pennsylvania, the former boy governor of Minnesota, Harold E. Stassen, now fiftyish, is going to make a run for the governorship nomination of that populous state. Both are hoping the presidential odds may shift in their favor and away from the shoe-in favorite for the Republican nomination in 1960, Richard M. Nixon.

Among the numerous Democrats who believe Mr. Nixon could be outrun in the 1960 presidential race, the one being most talked about at the close of 1957 because he is the one being most actively pushed into prominence, is Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Whenever Kennedy's name is mentioned, however, the name of Robert B. Meyner, governor of New Jersey, is likely to be mentioned in the next breath. Although both Kennedy and Meyner were born into Catholic families, Kennedy is identified closely with the Roman Catholic church, while Meyner has not been a practicing Catholic for many years—a circumstance that suggests a similarity to the case of Ohio's politically redoubtable Frank J. Lausche.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, who was re-elected to an unprecedented fifth term in 1956, is regarded by his backers as the man to beat for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But in Pennsylvania, the backers of Gov. George M. Leader, third Democrat to head the state in a century, are just as firm about the qualifications of their man.

New York's Gov. Averell Harriman has two handicaps—age and a New Yorkish background—but he also has one important advantage—unlimited wealth with which to advance his candidacy.

In Congress, three Democratic possibilities are mentioned often.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas has become one of the most respected figures in Washington. As majority leader of the upper House, he consistently has behaved like a leader, instead of an opportunist.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota has been grooming himself in statesmanship by traveling abroad and restraining what used to be an unbridled tongue.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who was the first secretary of the Air Force, has kept himself on tap as a voluble and intelligent critic of air policy and will be heard from frequently in the dawning era of missiles.

All these men and a great many more are running for the presidency of the United States as hard as they dare to run before the race gets under way. With three years to go and a thousand obstacles to stumble over, most of them will have been eliminated long before 1960.

Let a Little Sunshine in!

We are waiting for proof that James C. Hagerty, the presidential press secretary, has bounced back from the sloughs of despondency in which he floundered briefly in Paris.

He was shoved into it by a spoof on press conferences written by Ary Buchwald of the New York Herald Tribune. All that Buchwald actually did was to pretend to write a transcript of a presidential press conference—a tongue-in-cheek version of the fatuous questions and answers that are familiar to all newspapermen. The effect was to shatter Hagerty's urbane composure and his ordinary good humor.

We think we know what happened. It has been happening to many of us lately. It is reasonable to believe it may have happened to Hagerty, who has been exposed to more strain and despair than ordinary due to President Eisenhower's illness and the on-again-off-again visit to Paris.

He suddenly found himself at the bottom of the well, with no ray of sunshine to relieve the gloom. He realized there was nothing to laugh at any more—that everything was grim and gritty and deadly earnest. He lost his Irish bounce. He began to feel like those incredibly sour picture of Soviet underlings who have been tapped for heavier responsibilities. He was in a mood to kick chair legs and give short answers.

So he gave in to his mood and disappointed a great many people who have used his slow grin, his occasional hearty laugh and the twinkle in his eye to cue them into a state of composure they could not command from their personal resources. He let 'em down hard, and that is why they were disappointed in him. Jim Hagerty is no curmudgeon. He is the most highly-respected press secretary of his generation—a master of proportion.

All his admirers hope he will be himself

Once Over

College student, sued for tuition fee, has sued the university for damages to his intellect! Declares that he got none of the wisdom which the institution advertised. College officials counter by saying he was flunked out for not trying.

If this gets to the courts a copy of the testimony on each side will be a best seller on many a campus. This is the first time a student has refused to give a college a passing mark.

THE LAWSUIT says that the college failed to teach him wisdom, truth, justice, courage, honesty and critical judgment. That's the largest order on record in the class papers of any educational institution even if it leaves out the forward pass, ski partying and elemental blind-dating.

But he must have courage or he wouldn't have the nerve to leave school without paying his tuition and then sue it for not leveling with him in the matter of justice and honesty. If the kid succeeds it can start a rash of lawsuits.

Testimony is not hard to fancy. Q—When did you first suspect that the college was not giving you the education you expected?

A—When I got my first exam.

Q—When were you positive?

A—When I got my markings.

Q—Do you think the fault rested entirely with the college?

A—I must refuse to answer that.

Q—On what grounds?

A—On the grounds my lawyer advises me my answer to that one can ruin everything.

Etc., etc.

LINES TO IKE

There he stands so undismayed,
Weary, pale but unafraid;
Spent through illnesses, but still Fighting like a brave man will.

WHAT'S COME OVER WOMEN? "Whistler's Mother" has been widely taken as typical of most mothers, but we can't look at her now without fearing the old gal may go off her rocker, and hand it to a pro wrestler so he can break it over the head of a fallen competitor.

One of the weird phases of American life is being shown by the reaction of women to current wrestling bouts.

Kipling said the female of the species is more savage than the male. But is she more sadistic?

Figures show that a large percentage of the audiences at rasslin' bouts is made up of wives, mothers and teen-age cuties. They seem to cheer the loudest when honesty, skull-duggery, fair play, human decency and sportsmanship are blitzed. Tune in on the telecasts of wrestling contests and watch the females go haywire as one man jumps on another when he is down, kicks him in the chin and hits below the belt!

What's it all mean? Horrible thought: can it indicate that, away down deep, women have been nursing a grievance against the male of the species and have a wonderful time seeing him murdered?

Much Needed Lift

Economic Politics

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The success of Sputnik and other ominous reports of Soviet military progress came upon us at the same moment as signs of a recession in business threw their ominous shadow on the year ahead.

This has not only accelerated plans for more defense spending but has brought into vigorous activity all the Keynesian elements among the members of the federal administration's economic medicine men.

In the inner circles of the administration, therefore a battle is about to be staged over crash spending and lending, such as was present in the early months of 1954.

At that time the urgent demands for more liberal financial policies made by Harold Stassen and others were confronted by firm resistance by Treasury Secretary Humphrey and Arthur Burns, then chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The wait-size-group won over the President, especially when unmistakable signs of natural business recovery appeared.

It may well be that the refusal of the President to move quickly into an enlarged program of compensatory spending itself gave the necessary confidence to private business, which brought out more private spending, which turned the tide.

THIS TIME, however, we have a controlling majority in Congress by a party which is dedicated to spending as a sure cure—a party which claims that it had the formula in the 1930's

Be Ugly and Like It

By TRUMAN TWILL

Millions have read and thought about an Associated Press story from Los Angeles describing the Christmas-inspired philanthropy of Stanley Slotkin.

It began 23 years ago when Slotkin asked his secretary what she wanted for Christmas. She said "A new face." He made it possible for her to have plastic surgery to improve her appearance. The idea grew. Some 1,200 persons now have benefited by Slotkin's philanthropy.

All of them, to some degree, were handicapped by features that left something to be desired. At one extreme were those born with deformities such as cleft palates, hare lips and so on. At the other extreme were those with merely irregular features, such as crooked noses.

These are the ones to think about, because many of us belong to this group. What handicap do we carry during our lives by appearing to be what we drew in the shuffle, instead of throwing in our cards and getting a new hand?

How many of us who are sure in our hearts that we are the salt of the earth and blessed with the attributes of heroes and heroines have ended up with the also-rans because our faces suggested we were knaves, hoydens, tramps, or tart?

What might have been our destinies had we looked like our favorite stars of stage and screen, instead of like ourselves—lopsided, droopy-eared, dog-faced turkey-necked, shifty-eyed and jug-headed?

Can there really be any doubt about it that people are judged by their appearance and that many a man who has become a senator because he happened to look the part was nothing more than a filling clerk by nature, whereas other men who looked insignificant were George Washington in disguise?

Is it not unassailably true that in a showdown between two people of approximately equal mental attainments, the one who will be favored to get the nod for the job will be the one who puts up the best front?

Could anyone argue with conviction that women who do not measure up to the standards of beauty set by professional models, beauty contest winners and professional entertainers are up against a tough proposition in husband-hunting, no matter how witty, loyal, clever and loving they are?

Yet, we cannot go in for plastic surgery en masse to make ourselves look like what we'd like to look like. Even if the ethics of surgeons would permit us to alter our appearance like dogs being bob-tailed and clip-eared, our common sense would turn on a red light.

There are too many of us wop-jawed buck-toothed, horse-faced, clock-stopping, eye-popping, pitcher-eared, Halloween masked specimens extant. We—the photogenic dolls—are the majority.

The dolls should be made to look like us. They not we, should want to look somebody else.

Their ears should be clipped and their tails docked. Their noses should be bent to the northeast and their mouths knocked askew. Their ears should sag and their jaws should drag. They are such a small minority anyway—the good-looking—that the rest of us would put up the cost for the alterations without a quibble. It would be, in fact, our favorite philanthropy.

Then we could be just one big, happy, ugly human family.

Barbs

If all the oceans in the world were dried up, enough salt would be left to build a wall long enough to reach around the world at the equator, 180 miles high and equator, 180 miles high and a mile thick. A gallon of sea water contains about a quarter pound of salt.

Reds Think Official Obstacle to World Conquest

Two men sat and talked together before the nation Monday night in a television broadcast—the President of the United States and the secretary of state. But if Soviet Russia had had its way, they would not be sitting together—in fact, Mr. Dulles would not be in public office at all.

For the rulers of the Soviet Union think that Mr. Dulles is an obstacle to their designs for world conquest. They think they could manipulate some other secretary of state and that Mr. Eisenhower would become "soft" in his dealings with Moscow if somebody else besides Mr. Dulles sat at his elbow advising him.

This mistaken, but nevertheless ingrained view is held by high Russian officials who, in the last few days, have expressed themselves boldly to that effect to some diplomats of the West.

"If only Dulles could be gotten out of the way" is the refrain from the Communist side.

Strangely enough, the Communist propaganda which has been insidiously infiltrating various capitals of the world for the last several months with this viewpoint has been getting support from diplomats here and there and some politicians and writers in the Western world.

THUS, IN BRITAIN a wing of the Conservative party feels so resentful against Secretary Dulles, because he thwarted armed intervention in the Suez dispute in 1956, that various newspapers still reflect a bitter point of view and keep up a steady stream of speculative stories about when Mr. Dulles might resign.

Yet had it not been for the advice given the President by Mr. Dulles, the debacle in Egypt would have bankrupted Britain and France and would have left in its wake a guerrilla war that would still be going on. Some day in Paris and London they will appreciate what Mr. Dulles did to save them.

Propaganda to force Mr. Dulles out has, in this country, partisan sponsors and partisan objectives. This doesn't need any Communist inspiration and has nothing to do with Soviet schemes. The Republicans fought Secretary Acheson in much the same way that the Democrats are conducting their warfare now against Secretary Dulles.

During the NATO conference the hostility of some of the press was conspicuous. Failure of the meeting was widely predicted on the theory that Mr. Dulles would not get to first base with the Allies because "they don't like him."

TODAY THE STORY is different. Perhaps the fairest and most significant statement about the NATO conference was made last Saturday in a Paris dispatch by the veteran foreign observer Cyrul Sulzberger of the New York Times, who summed up the situation this way:

"Dulles' negotiation was extraordinarily skillful. He had one salient objective—to secure Allied agreement for installation in Europe of intermediate missile bases and nuclear warhead stockpiles.

"In this he succeeded brilliantly—and he paid no price. He agreed to a vague formula for resuming disarmament talks with Russia—on terms we have always been ready to accept. He made no commitments to France about Algeria. He made no commitments to anyone on Cyprus.

"He made no commitments to The Netherlands on West New Guinea. He made no commitments, as Italy wanted, on turning NATO into an economic agency. And he acknowledged no built-in procedure by which, under guise of consultations, our actions could be vetoed by our partners.

"What was secured in return? The principle of European atomic arsenals and medium rocket launchers has been unanimously accepted. It is neither necessary nor desirable to have such batteries in every allied land. But it is necessary to have them sited at focal points from which Soviet centers can be menaced if Moscow contemplates push-button war."

SMALL WONDER the Soviets want to oust John Foster Dulles. He is indeed an obstacle to their schemes. He is against deals that would sell America's defense down the river.

There are few men in the foreign offices of the world who have stored away in their heads the knowledge of international affairs which Mr. Dulles possesses after a lifetime of intimate acquaintance with the problems of Europe, Asia and the two Americas.

One fact about the situation of Mr. Dulles today supercedes all else in importance—he has the unlimited confidence and trust of President Eisenhower. For the President knows a stalwart American when he sees one.

American aid to Europe in sensible amounts and American military strength adequate to deter the enemy in Europe and Asia and Africa are the fundamentals of the Eisenhower-Dulles policy.

There will be no change in this, no matter who occupies the chair of secretary of state if ill health—which is the only possible reason for a change—should ever befall the present incumbent.

Sherman Adams

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Sherman Adams, the man who in effect became President of the United States when Ike departed for Paris, has recently been described as a good doctor with a terrible bedside manner.

Both his friends and enemies go right along with this.

He usually knows the right medicine to prescribe but he insists on forcing the patient's mouth open and ramming it down his throat.

Even the sickest man rebels at this kind of handling which is why Adams is not the most popular man in town, even though many of his critics are alive and well today thanks to his forced medications.

With the swift, behind-the-scenes orders from the White House carrying the full force of a presidential edict he has saved many an administration hide.

ADAMS HAS CARVED UP a few administration hides, too, like his insistence that the late former secretary of the Air Force, Harold Talbot, get out when it was found that he was running a private business from his office. And it didn't make any difference that Talbot was a bridge-playing crony of Ike's with a backdoor key to the White House.

AND WHEN THE White House office machinery turned out to be pretty slow moving in spite of the addition of more assistants than any previous president had ever had Sherm's rep as an administrative genius faded somewhat.

Incredibly long hours at his desk, an acid tongue, prodding of the help just short of browbeating and an antagonism to long telephone conversations, it turns out, are among Adams' chief administrative techniques.

It didn't take Washington officials long to discover that Adams never bothers to say "goodbye," when he feels phone conversations have ended. He just hangs up to let the other party continue a monologue if he thinks there's more to be said.

THERE WAS EVEN a time after Adams arrived in town when hostesses thought he'd make a terribly interesting dinner guest and might do some entertaining himself. He and Mrs. Adams—a truly delightful person, by the way—moved into a town house in a fashionable area to start out, like real sociable city folk. But this Adams myth exploded, too.

Adams not only didn't cozy to the Washington social routine, he let the word go out that the White House preferred to have the administration officials take it easy on the social side. It put a damper on the whole drinking attitude of the town during almost the first four years of Ike's administration.

This city has amazing party resiliency, however, which even powerful Sherman Adams couldn't change for too long, and is now back to its old, gay ways.

Maybe this return to gaiety is what convinced Adams that he should move from his town house to a remote little cottage in Rock Creek Park where there's little chance of roving Christmas carolers, for example, disturbing his evenings as he pores over state papers.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

5 YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. Randall Black of Teegarden Road are spending the winter in Florida.

10 YEARS AGO—Den 5 was taken into Pack 3 of the Cub Scouts when the group held its Christmas party recently at the Presbyterian Church. Members of the new den are Tommy Mulford, Ralph Hanna, Charles Probert, Dick Kelly and Tommy Burns. Mrs. John Mulford is the den mother.

25 YEARS AGO—Winners in the doll convention at the Spring Holzwarth Store were announced today by manager Merle Miller. They are Abby Sell of Salem RD, Jean Schaffer of Newgarden Ave.; Mrs. J. W. Asty of E. State St.; Clara Mae Bowman of Woodland Ave.; and Edna Catherine Ressler of Cleveland St. The doll that Mrs. Sell entered was reputed to be 237 years old.

PINNED — The Rev. L. Stype comforts Mrs. Augustine Pappilon, 40, who is trapped in the wreckage of a pickup truck. Three of her children lie crushed to death in the truck while a fourth, 16-year-old Linus, who was badly cut, is behind her. The tractor-trailer rig rolled over onto the Pappilon truck about 10 miles west of Opeolous, La.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Two men, each with guns "on their hips," eyed one another in the press rooms, back corridors and back stage settings at the recent AFL-CIO convention. One of the armed men made inquiries about the other. He was told that the man was no loiterer. That was Walter Reuther's bodyguard.

The suspicious one, also a bodyguard, relaxed for a moment. It is almost a decade since Walter Reuther was attacked. What's been happening in Detroit?

One of the few men who could answer that is dead. He was found drowned in Lake St. Clair. The coroner ended the incident with a verdict of accidental death, but it seems that the saga has just begun.

The man who fell into the frozen Lake was Ralph Winstead, a real pro in a business which rates high on the list of insurance risks. Winstead knew more about labor racketeering in Detroit than most men. For almost 10 years he has been the chief investigator for the United Auto Workers Union.

FOR ALMOST 10 YEARS he was the union's liaison with the FBI as well as state and local police. He was hired in 1948 after the Reuther brothers were shot.

That is the beginning of a story which has no ending yet. After the shootings the union first retained a former Army counter-intelligence officer. This man analyzed the situation in Detroit and said bluntly that the union would do best to hire its own prober and set up its own crime fighting department. The UAW then hired Winstead.

For a while there were sluggings of UAW officials. There was an attempt to dynamite the Auto Union headquarters.

Winstead slowly pinpointed the underworld opposition. He always worked with the FBI — and with the state police — and with those local cops he trusted.

After a while Winstead dug up stuff which resulted in charges being made deep inside the Detroit Police Dept. This department, Winstead believed, had long since cleaned itself up.

From those who know comes word that Winstead proved to the Reuthers' satisfaction who took, and who ordered, the shots at them. But such is the law that neither the union, nor the FBI, nor the regional police had the corroboration which technicalities demand for due process.

THERE ARE outbreaks of "underworld lockjaw" everywhere. The FBI and other agencies are convinced of all this, too.

Gradually, Winstead's files

ions setting up similar operations to protect themselves.

WINSTEAD'S TRAGEDY, coming at year's end when many congressional leaders, and the White House, are preparing anti-racketeering laws, dramatically highlights the need for revision of local and state laws — but especially federal statutes.

As far back as 1950 the Kefauver committee hit Detroit and was asked to go back and fight for new laws. There was evidence of mob infiltration — and even ownership — of plants. But nothing happened in Congress.

Now the McClellan committee, with its startling disclosures, is preparing new legislation to end corruption and fight the mobs.

If the committee is ignored by Congress and there is another seven year hiatus, it will be another holiday for crime.

IN OBSERVANCE of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. William Tetlow will receive friends and relatives at an open house reception in their home at 668 E. 7th St. Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m.

CUSTOM OF OPEN church will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Paul Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Nancy Swartz and Theodore Gagnon.

An open reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Swartz of 714 N. Ellsworth Ave. Mr. Gagnon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gagnon of Rogers.

The bride-elect was complimented with a shower Saturday evening at the home of Miss Joyce Liebhart of 7th St., with eight guests present.

The buffet table was decorated in yellow and white appointments. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Michael Liebhart.

SIXTY FOUR members of the Youngstown Kitchens Booster Club enjoyed a Christmas dinner party recently at the First Methodist Church.

Centerpieces of assorted Christmas candles and miniature Christmas trees favors decorated the tables.

The birthday gifts were awarded to Pat Berger, Mrs. Patrick Mancuso and Kathleen Mullins. Mrs. Willard Headland and Mrs. Harold Baker received farewell gifts.

Centerpieces were won by Donna Rhodes, Mrs. James Minamyer, Ann McLaughlin, Maxine Rupert, Rose McLaughlin, June Kyser, Theresa Stokovic, Ann Moore, Barbara Gray, Mrs. Ernest Minth and Mrs. Tracy Dangerfield.

Garnetta Volpe is the new club treasurer.

The program included a comedy dance routine by Bud Oden of Bessemer, Pa.; a four-piece combo act; and the Leetonia High School Choir, under the direction of Wallace DePue.

Shirley Brantingham, Mrs. Mancuso, Theresa Ferry and Mrs. Carolyn Vencutinski planned the party.

Jan. 16 is the next meeting date.

Trinity Lutheran Program Presented

"The Christ Child Comes to Christian Homes" was the title of the Christmas program given during the Sunday School period at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Dan Balan and William Hiltbrand are superintendent and assistant superintendent, respectively.

Penny Balan and Jim Fortune were narrators for the program.

Welcome speeches were given by Carole Moore and Beverly Calahan.

Those taking part in the play were: Terry Allison, Trudy Nedelka, Rickey Kilbreath, Patty Deane, Jane Miles, Patty Shrum, Judy Fowler, Bonnie Youtz, Maureen Thomas, Val Altomare, Rickey Thomas, Leanna Graybill, Jim Kekel.

John Whitcomb, Kathie Balan, Billie Karnofel, Larry Thomas, Patty Stack, Susan Tuel, David Gopp, Rickie Wukotich, David Cosma, Georgia Duhan, Alex Fratila, Larry Stout, Vicki Stack, Jeffrey McArthur, Elaine Miles, Paul Wukotich, and Danny Metcalf.

The offering was taken by Carl Ostrum, Alan Miner, Richard John, Larry Hiltbrand, Joe Bricker and Robert Ehrhart.

Thoughts about Christmas were expressed by Miss Donna Stoffer.

Songs presented included: "Away in a Manger," and "Little Baby in a Manger" by the Beginners Class, accompanied by Miss Marty Alexander; "As Each Happy Christmas," Primary Class; "Angels We Have Heard on High," the class of Mrs. Charter Merrill and William Hiltbrand; "The First Noel," the class of Mrs. Walter Block and Charter Merrill. Piano accompaniment was by Lois Whinnery.

George Zeller gave "A Blessing." Prayer was offered by Rev. G. D. Keister. Scenery for the program was drawn by Mrs. Virgil Whinnery.

Program committee members were Mrs. Walter Eleveck, Mrs. Ralph Fratila, Mrs. Milan Miles, Mrs. Clarence Callahan, Mrs. Whinnery, Miss Stoffer, Mrs. Perry Hiltbrand Jr., Richard Kilbreath, Miss Alexander, Miss Marjorie Meir, Mrs. Howard Moore and Mrs. Donald Deane.

RESORT FASHIONS, ready to travel now and to go places again next summer, play up the drama of a sun tan. On a cruise, a chalk white silk linen sheath (left) gets company in form of a close-cropped jacket. Dress has arrow motif to point up slim, shapely look. The beautifully simple white silk linen sheath appears again in another design (center). Here, the neckline is a wide arc lattice-worked with cross stripes of hot coral. Warp print silk taffeta (right) has huge billowy skirt stemming from a tiny bodice. Misty bouquets of full-blown roses make up the print. All three designs are from the collection of Oleg Cassini. And all show beautiful shaping, calculated to make a woman look pretty.

Job's Daughters Install Diana Wilson, Other Officers

Job's Daughters held formal installation of the 1958 first term officers Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Diana Wilson was installed as honored queen for next term. Other new officers are: Senior princess, Pat Swennington; junior princess, Mary Alice Detimore; guide, Joyce Halverstad; marshal, Cathie Campbell; chaplain, Mary Ann Petrus; treasurer, Beverly Pasco.

Recorder, Alice Farmer; musician, Pat Roof; librarian, Nan Bailey; first messenger, Beverly Turner; second messenger, Fay Conser; third messenger, Sandra Cox; fourth messenger, Leah Whinnery; fifth messenger, Marge Hiltbrand.

Senior custodian, Karen Smith; junior custodian, Sally Snyder; inner guard, Carol Schramm and outer guard, Beverly Costa.

Margaret Hanna, the 1957 honored queen, thanked all those who made her term a success.

Special recognition was given to three choir members, Pam Maruca, Dawn Silver and Karen Smith who had a perfect attendance at choir practice.

During the ceremony, Miss Martha Baier sang "O Lord Most Holy" as Miss Hanna signed the Bible. The installing officers were: Honored queen, Miss Hanna; guide, Gunhild Nyberg; marshal, Sandy Bailey; chaplain, Diana Crowgey; recorder, Elizabeth Duke; senior custodian, Helen Beers; junior custodian, Nancy Riegel; musician, Louise Oswald; soloist, Miss Roof and Miss Baier.

While the newly-installed queen knelt at the altar, the soloist sang "My Task." She was presented a gavel by her father. Her parents were introduced.

Miss Wilson chose as her theme, "Patience, Faith and Reward," with the white dove as her symbol.

Past honored queen Miss Hanna presented Miss Wilson with the honored queen's pin to be worn during her term in office; and Mrs. Margaret Detimore, guardian, presented Miss Hanna with a past honored queen's pin.

Remarks were made by Rev. W. Paul Neel, pastor of the Hanover Christian Church, together with Virgil Edgerton, associate guardian.

Shooks Mark Anniversary At N. Benton

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Shook of North Benton was celebrated Sunday with open house at their home.

Edward Shook and the former Mary Alesi were married by Rev. Truman Kenworthy Dec. 21, 1907 in the Atkinson home on the Damascus Road. The couple have resided in this vicinity all of their married life.

Mr. Shook is a retired farmer. The Shooks attend the North Benton Presbyterian Church.

One hundred and fifty guests were presented from Alliance, Louisville, Mineral Ridge and Salem. Among the guests were the couple's children, Mrs. Howard S. Schotter of Arlington, Va., and Curtis Shook of Columbus, and three grandchildren.

A four-tiered cake, baked by Mrs. Schotter, graced the buffet table which was laid with a white cloth. White and gold candles in gold holders flanked the cake. The white and gold color scheme was used in the home decorations.

Serving were the couple's granddaughter, Carol Shook; nieces, Mrs. John Alesi, Mrs. Walter Alesi, Mrs. Fred Alesi and Mrs. Charles McLain; and great-nieces, Dixie and Sandra Alesi.

The Grangers Four quartet comprised of Carl Alesi, Harvey Bates, Gail Bartchy and Stan Fee sang several selections.

Sleepy Drivers Cause Sixteen Deaths on Pike

CLEVELAND (AP)—No one can say how many lives were saved by alert driving on the Ohio Turnpike this year, but statistics show sleepy drivers killed 16 persons.

Of the 28 deaths in Turnpike traffic, 13 fatal accidents caused by nodding motorists resulted in 16 deaths, Russell S. Deetz, deputy Turnpike director said Thursday. Five of the accidents came when vehicles left the road. Eight were rear-end collisions.

The 1956 death toll of 16 contained only six fatalities attributed to sleepy drivers—less than half this year's deaths.

Three steps are being taken in the continuing effort to ward off sleep on the super highway, Deetz said. Turnpike patrolmen are instructed to keep a watch for weaving drivers, a telltale sign of sleepiness.

State route numbers will be painted on bridges crossing the toll road to stimulate the driver's interest and keep him awake. And signs warning against drowsy driving are being erected.

Despite the 28 Turnpike fatalities, Deetz said, safety on Ohio's super road compares favorably with similar highways in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

Board Rules Ex-Communists Can Hold Offices in Union

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Public Review Board, making its first major decision, held Thursday that former Communists can hold union offices.

The board ruled there is no union provision barring former Communists from UAW offices in upholding the findings of lower union tribunals in cases involving 10 unionists who appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Five of the unionists, all officials of Detroit area UAW locals, invoked the protection of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution when questioned by Senate investigators about the Communist party. The five others, UAW international representatives assigned to Chicago, admitted former membership in the Communist party in testimony before the Senate subcommittee.

The Public Review Board, set up as an agency outside the union to guard against corruption within, said Thursday that conclusions of the "local union courts" in the cases under consideration were consistent with an administrative letter from UAW President Walter P. Reuther and the AFL-CIO's ethical practice code.

Decisions of the seven-member board, made up of educators, judges and clergymen, are final. The UAW's constitution and the AFL-CIO's ethical code prohibit criminals, Communists and Fascists from holding union office.

An administrative letter from Reuther outlined a procedure under which officials who invoke the Fifth Amendment must appear before a hearing board and present evidence that they are not disqualified from office under the union's constitution or the AFL-CIO code.

The five Detroit-area local officials, James Simmons, Harry M. Philo, Walter Dorosh and Mack Cincori, of Ford Local 600, and Edith Van Horn, chief steward of Dodge Local 3, were cleared at local hearings.

The five international representatives, Milton Burns, DeWitt Gilpin, Andrew Newhoff, Albert Verri and Donald Harris, were absolved by the UAW's International Executive Board.

In all cases the individual was found "not to be disqualified to hold office under the international's constitution."

Rabid Puppy Bites Seven Florida Coeds

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Seven persons are known to have been bitten by a puppy found to have rabies after it had been coddled and petted by scores of Florida Southern College coeds.

The death of the dog and determination that it was rabid touched off a series of telephone calls by college officials to points throughout the country to warn 82 girls known to have been in contact with the dog.

Letters are going out to tell the entire student body of 2,000 about the situation, since others may have been exposed to the animal.

The college said five students were bitten: Sheila Bryant, Atlanta; Patricia Ladden, Teaneck, N.J.; Jackie Sierra, Lakeland; Judy Ann Pereboom, Lake Worth and Barbara Hopson, Frostproof. Miss Hopson took the white and black mongrel home with her when Christmas vacation began Dec. 18. Her father and brother also were bitten.

When the puppy died Monday, it was taken to a veterinarian for examination. Preliminary examination showed it had rabies, said Dr. Chester Nayfield, Polk County health officer.

A college spokesman said the animal was smuggled against school rules into the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority house, where it became a sort of mascot.

Federal Escapee Found In Serious Condition

DUNN, N. C. (AP)—A federal prisoner who escaped officers nine days ago was in serious condition today from exposure and starvation. Police said he had apparently spent the entire time in an old shack near where he was found Thursday.

John Richie, 24, of Akron, Ohio, was found in the shack by several Negroes picking collards near the spot where Richie was last seen during his flight from officers.

Police Sgt. Joe Davidson said Richie, picked up nine days ago, was taken to police headquarters when he escaped. He was chased through a swamp and bloodhounds were called out. Davidson said Richie apparently found the shack and hid in it the entire time. He had no coat and no food.

The policeman said Richie came here two or three weeks ago and was picked up for investigation in a Raleigh robbery.

Major Improvements in Ohio's Court System Planned in '58

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will begin the new year with a sweeping improvement in its minor court system.

Starting Jan. 1, county judges will replace justices of the peace in all areas of the state outside territory served by expanded municipal courts.

A total of 95 county judges will be sworn in to serve in 54 of Ohio's 88 counties. Some municipal courts have county-wide jurisdiction.

The judges were elected last November in final steps to end the waning JP system established about 170 years ago before Ohio became a state. Ohio authorized 2,200 justices but the number was reduced to about 800 by recent legislative enactments.

The change will provide Ohio with one of the best lower court systems anywhere in the United States, said Sen. William Tyrrell (R-Pref), co-author of the county court law with Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion).

The last legislature approved the shift to do away with the fee system that led to abuses in some JP courts.

Compensation of county judges will range between $1,500 and $5,000 a year, based on population in their territories and allowances from county commissioners.

Statute provides for counties to pay the new judges and for commissioners to provide them with suitable quarters and supplies. Some commissioners reportedly have balked at making quarters available.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe told the new judges at a briefing session on their duties to make sure they were addressed as judge in their courtrooms, instead of by their first names as JPs often permitted.

"Don't be afraid they will say you are taking on airs," Saxbe admonished. "Many JPs were not interested in good law and some ran a collection agency on the side. That did not win respect. We want to make this new system work."

As part time jurists, Saxbe said, county judges are disqualified from practicing law in matters pending or originating in their courts while in office.

The new judges will serve for one year. But those elected next November will serve regular terms of four years, starting Jan. 1, 1959. Effective Jan. 1, 1963, all county judges must be attorneys with at least one year of practice although a "grandfather" clause permits an incumbent, who is not an attorney, to succeed himself.

They will have jurisdiction in motor vehicle violations and other misdemeanors and actions in which JPs had jurisdiction. County courts will have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil actions for recovery of sums to $100. They also will have concurrent jurisdiction with common pleas courts for recovery of larger sums to a limit of $300.

County court districts will have one judge for each 30,000 population to a total of five for 150,000 population. Districts between 150,000 and 360,000 population will have eight judges and those above 360,000 a limit of 12 judges.

The sheriff and township constables are ministerial officers of a county court in all civil and criminal cases under its jurisdiction.

County court districts hearing cases involving motor vehicle violations on the Ohio Turnpike, common pleas court with the consent of county commissioners may provide for election of a judge for each 20,000 population in addition to those regularly allowed.

Five counties have additional county judges under that provision. Lucas County has two extra for a total of six. Mahoning one extra for a total of four, Sandusky one extra for a total of three, Wood one extra for a total of three and Williams one extra for a total of two.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Rae Judkins

Mrs. Gertrude Hobson Judkins, mother-in-law of Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio district congressman, died Wednesday at 10 a.m. in her home at Flushing, Belmont County, after a long illness. She was 81.

Mrs. Judkins was born in Flushing, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Hobson.

She leaves her husband, Rae Judkins, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Martha Hays of Flushing and Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Dorothy Davis of Cleveland; a brother, Alfred D. Hobson of Waldoboro, Maine, a sister, Mrs. V. M. Marsh of Middletown, R.I., three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services were held today in the Flushing Methodist Church. Burial was in the Flushing cemetery.

Suggitt Infant

Graveside services were held at 10 a.m. today at Hope Cemetery for Matthew James Suggitt, infant son of Kenneth and Jeannine Marks Suggitt of RD 1, Leetonia who died at 12:15 a.m. Thursday at City Hospital where he was born at 10:38 p.m. Wednesday. Rev. Harold Winn officiated at the service.

Besides his parents, he leaves a brother, Mark; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Suggitt and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Marks, all of Salem; and great-grandmother, Mrs. Petra Papp of Akron.

REDS ISSUE NEW CLAIMS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press continued today to make high claims for Russian war planes without giving enough details for comparison in the west.

The military newspaper Red Star said a standard jet fighter went above 19,000 meters—62,335 feet—recently and was the first such plane to attain this height. The plane was not identified.

The official world's altitude record for a jet plane is 20,063 meters. U.S. rocket test planes have been higher.

On Sunday at 11 a.m. Mr. Scharff will deliver the message and at 7:30 p.m. he will show pictures which he took in the Holy Land last fall.

Experts Develop New Heart Device

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—A device that reportedly picks up the heart's tiniest movements is being used to hear heart murmurs that previously eluded the most sensitive instruments.

It is hoped it will aid in earlier detection of heart disease.

The device, developed by Dr. Dale Groom of the Medical College of South Carolina and Yro T. Sihonen of the General Motors Technical Center here, is in operation at Medical College Hospital at Charleston, S. C.

Known as a capacitance heart sound pickup, it was developed along the lines of a tool the automotive industry uses to measure engine pressure.

The device is contained in a small bell-shaped housing similar to the end of a physician's stethoscope. It receives the sounds of chest wall movements, with a range down to movements of one-half billionth of an inch, and converts them into electrical signals.

These signals are reproduced on an oscilloscope where they can be photographed or recorded on tape.

Direct contact with the heart is not necessary. The subject's chest skin serves as an electrode.

Mayor Cranmer Fines Four Drivers $115

JUMP — MAYOR CRANMER of four motorists were fined a total of $115 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Thursday.

Fined were: Myron C. Powell, 47, of Youngstown, $15, passing at an intersection; Raymond Felto, 45, of New Brighton, Pa., $15, passing without the assured clear distance ahead; Denzil McCauley, 29, of Canton, $25, no drivers license, and $50, fictitious plates; and Harvey H. Lamoucha, 69, of Leetonia, $10, reckless operation.

County Units To Pay Election Charges

Columbiana County's cities, villages, townships and school districts will pay $35,334 as their share of the cost of the Nov. 5 general election.

Charges against each of the subdivisions were certified today by the County Election Board to County Auditor E. J. Vorndran to be withheld from the next tax settlement.

Clerk Frank R. O'Hanlon of the election board said the total includes charges of $7,435.79 against cities and villages, $6,584.34 for townships and $11,314.15 for school districts.

In addition, $2,655.80 will be charged to the county government, representing the cost of voting on proposed state amendments, the County Board of Education county levies and a county health district levy. That makes the overall charge back $27,990.08.

O'Hanlon pointed out the charges are "painless" as the deductions will be made before the subdivisions receive their tax settlements.

Another election expense item is $2,608 for poll books, which the county also pays. Added to the total cost of the election $30,598, exclusive of administrative expenses.

East Liverpool will be charged $345.30 for registration of voters and $2,497 as its share of the general election expenses. In addition, the East Liverpool school district will be charged $2,880.

Here are the chargebacks against some of the other subdivisions:

Salem, $1,402; Hanover Township, $219; Knox Township, $375; Perry Township, $1,368, and Salem Township, $376.

130 Expected to Die On Roads Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimated 130 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the New Year celebration.

The council predicted 180 fatalities on the streets and highways during the Christmas holiday. The total reached 225.

Statistics show that, since World War II, traffic deaths have been substantially lower during the New Year celebration than during the Christmas observance. One big factor is less long-distance travel.

The lowest toll since World War II is 93, compiled during the one-day switch from 1946 to 1947.

The New Year period will run from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 31 to midnight Wednesday, Jan. 1. That's 30 hours, the same as the Christmas period.

PICTURE PARADE of NEWS 1957

A LITTLE DOG, Laika by name, became the world's first space traveler when Russia fired Sputniks I and II into orbits around the earth and shook the western world right down to its launching pads. Hastening to redeem its prestige, the U. S. suffered embarrassment as its first satellite launching ended in flames.

FOR THE THIRD consecutive year, a serious illness—this time a slight stroke—incapacitated President Eisenhower and upset the nation. A short rest, including some time at his Gettysburg farm, put him back to work, seemed to be restoring him to health.

BAYONETS AND RIFLES of federal troops were wielded to enforce integration at Little Rock high school after Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus refused to provide needed protection for nine Negro students so they could attend integrated classes.

BUDDY BUDDY was this trio in the warm May sunshine on Red Square, but the chill of fall and winter found their comradeship also chilled as Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev (center) took firm control of Soviet Russia for himself, shoving Premier Nikolai Bulganin (right) into the background and ex-Army boss Georgi Zhukov (left) clear out of sight because of his influence with troops.

MINUS HIS STRIPES, but saved from prison, GI William Girard returned to the United States. A Japanese court trial, bitterly opposed by many, resulted in his probation for accidentally killing Japanese woman.

VICTORY of James R. Hoffa in election as president of the powerful Teamsters union was proclaimed in Miami Beach by predecessor Dave Beck and Mrs. Hoffa. But all was not so joyful as Beck, Hoffa and the Teamsters found themselves under the scrutiny of Congress and the courts, not to mention the parent AFL-CIO, which threw them out. Other tainted unions also drew the spotlight.

WHITE HOUSE GUEST of the year was Britain's Queen Elizabeth, who made a triumphal tour of American and Canadian cities with Prince Philip. President Eisenhower met them at the airport and escorted them home to meet Mamie.

IN THE WAKE of the Suez crisis that heaped criticism upon his administration, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, protégé of Sir Winston Churchill, turned over reins of the empire to Harold Macmillan.

HAPPY PAIR INDEED were 7-year-old Benny Hooper, in a hospital oxygen tent, and Sam Woodson, who dug through to rescue him from the bottom of a well shaft where he had been imprisoned for some 24 hours in Manorville, N. Y.

SIX-YEAR-OLD son of Saudi Arabia's King Saud stole American hearts when he accompanied his father to the U. S. to seek rehabilitation from polio. The grim-visaged king had other things on his mind as well, because through the year he was a key figure in preserving peace in the Middle East.

HUMAN SKULLS and parts of numerous bodies were unearthed on the Wisconsin farm of mild-mannered, 51-year-old Edward Gein by authorities. Grisly search was launched with discovery of the headless body of 58-year-old woman hanging in his home.

Tech Beats Southern Methodist 72-70 in Overtime

Rice Defeats Baylor 62-52; Arkansas Trips Texas 83-67

By The Associated Press

The big clubs—North Carolina, Kansas, San Francisco, Seattle, Temple—got the job done as college basketball got back into the swing of holiday tournament play, but they may have to make room for Texas Tech, a budding Cinderella outfit, before it's all over.

Tech, a newcomer to the Southwest Conference, knocked off defending champ Southern Methodist 72-70 in overtime in the SWC Tournament at Houston Thursday.

A field goal by Pat Nokes—his only points of the game—put it in the bag with 8 seconds left after Tech, ahead 46-30 at the half, went cold and had to start battling all over again when the Red Raiders managed only 18 points in the second half.

Tech, only unbeaten club in the tournament, now is 7-0 and goes against Texas Christian, one of the season title favorites, in tonight's semifinals. TCU advanced with a 65-54 decision over Texas A&M.

Rice battled Baylor for a 62-52 victory and a semifinal berth, opposite Arkansas, 83-67 winner over Texas.

Kansas, rated No. 2 in this week's Associated Press poll, had some trouble with Oklahoma's ball control, but Wilt Chamberlain took off for a 41-point kick that topped the Sooners 68-50 in first-round play of the Big Eight tourney at Kansas City.

Iowa State gets a shot at the Jayhawks in Saturday's semifinals after whipping Colorado 81-43 Thursday night.

Kansas State (7-0), rated No. 3 in the AP poll, meets Missouri and Nebraska plays guest Princeton in other first-round games tonight.

Seattle's Elgin Baylor and Temple's Guy Rodgers starred at the Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Baylor scored 34 points, two on free throws after the final buzzer, as Seattle put down a Connecticut rally for an 87-83 victory. Two free throws by Don Ogorek broke a 83-83 tie.

Rodgers scored only 11 points as Temple defeated Pitt 76-71, but was the guy who made the Owls click. His eight assists helped Bill Kennedy take scoring honors with 22 points.

Seattle plays Temple in Saturday's semifinals while California plays Dayton, California, after losing to San Francisco, Kansas and Kansas State in its last three games, had a ball in beating New York University 96-65. Dayton ousted defending champ Manhattan 59-51.

North Carolina beat St. Louis 63-48 in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh. Tommy Kearns was high 23 points.

Duke, junking a 14-point Seton Hall lead for a 69-62 victory, meets North Carolina in tonight's semifinals. North Carolina State, advancing with a 71-68 decision over Northwestern of the Big Ten, plays Wake Forest, which defeated Duquesne 65-54.

Once-beaten Niagara pulled an upset in the All-College at Oklahoma City, bumping Western Kentucky 77-74 in overtime as Boo Ellis scored 38 points and pulled in 28 rebounds.

Niagara meets seventh-ranked San Francisco, a 65-48 winner over Denver, in tonight's semifinals while host Oklahoma City, which whipped Tulsa 85-54, plays Tulsa, 64-54 winner over Idaho State.

In the Louisiana Invitational, Louisiana Tech defeated Hardin Simmons 48-44. Tech now plays Mississippi Southern in the semifinals tonight. Centenary meets Northwestern (La.) in the other game.

Youngstown Wins Over Anderson

YOUNGSTOWN (U)—Ohio's two entries—Youngstown and Steubenville—sprung surprises on out-of-state rivals in the first round of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Tipoff Tournament which opened Thursday night.

The Big Red of Steubenville shocked defending NAIA champion Tennessee A & I when freshman Bob Maher dropped in a lay-up shot for a 71-70 overtime victory. Maher's shot, with 11 seconds remaining to play, stopped Tennessee's winning streak at 23 straight. A & I had rallied to tie the score at 66-66 in regulation time, after losing a 36-33 halftime edge.

Youngstown's Penguins had an easy time handing unbeaten Anderson (Ind.) its first defeat in 10 games before a capacity crowd of 3,200 at South High field house. With Jim Cramer tossings in 19 points and Charley Moore 14, Youngstown coasted to an 84-71 victory. Gary Ausburn and Jack Wilson were top scorers for Anderson with 24 points apiece.

The Penguins held an impressive 40-25 lead at the half and used substitutes against Anderson for most of the last half of the game.

Another undefeated squad, West Virginia Wesleyan, was jolted by Westminster (Pa.), 81-77. With a mediocre 4-2 record, Westminster rallied behind freshman Mike Swaniek's 23 points and a 21-point effort by Dave Rankin to outlast Wesleyan. West Virginia, whose high scorer was Sam Caudill with 19 points, trailed at halftime, 39-37. Geneva (Pa.) started off the first round play with a decisive 100-85 shellacking of Detroit Tech. After grabbing a quick 11-1 lead, Geneva sailed to a 54-33 edge at the half. Despite Mike Butka's 29 points, Detroit never threatened. Tom Yancy with 25 tallies and Nick Tepavich with 22 were high men for Geneva.

In the second-round tonight, Steubenville, taking on the role of favorite as a result of defeating Tennessee A & I, will meet Westminster. Geneva plays Youngstown in the final game of the evening's play, which opens with Anderson against Detroit Tech and Tennessee playing West Virginia.

'Speedway Safer Than Highway,' Says Champ

LOS ANGELES (U)—While driving along in a car given him as a prize for winning the 1957 Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile auto race, Sam Hanks smashed into the rear of another car. Hanks, unhurt, explained to police Thursday that the other car pulled out from the curb unexpectedly and he was unable to stop in time. He added: "Driving around here is more dangerous than it is on the Indianapolis Speedway."

Better Bowling

LEE JOUGLARD
Stance on the approach

First of 10 illustrated instructional articles written for NEA Service and The Salem News.

By LEE JOUGLARD
ABC Singles Record-Holder

Instructors should stress fundamentals. They should check your equipment, be sure that you have a properly weighted ball fitted to your hand.

They should make certain that you have the proper stance on the approach.

They should determine the number of steps most natural to you. They should see that you have rhythm in the swing and in releasing the ball.

They should teach you the proper angle for the flight of the ball. Listen to your instructor. Practice what he preaches because he should know best. Make both his job and yours a little more pleasant. He wants you to score well.

But bear in mind that the instructor's personal style may not be the best for you. He should—and no doubt will—analyze each case individually and prescribe accordingly.

Murphy Cagers Victors 99-29

McDaniel's Defeats Youngstown Kitchens

A total of 28 players entered the scoring column in two Class A basketball games played Thursday night in the Memorial Building.

In the first contest, McDaniel's whipped Youngstown Kitchens 99-29. Six men scored in the double figures for the victors. Kitchens had nine men who pocketed points.

Murphy's Service completely outclassed Main St. Motors in the nightcap as the Alliance team massacred the Columbiana quintet 99-29.

Twenty points by Dave DeRhodes and 17 by Bob Knight paced McDaniel's over Kitchens. Benny Roelen had 18, Bob Capel 12 and Carl Cicozzi 11 for the losers.

McDaniel's led at the quarter 21-19 and at the half 40-35. Ed Agonionie with 23 markers, Steve Ports with 20 and Ray Sulzer with 18 led the rampaging Murphys over Main St.

The victors led at the intermission 55-19 and 80-23 after three periods. Ted Green had 13 for the losers.

McDaniel's Maniacs—84
Mankin 2, 9, 13; Knight 6, 5, 17; Guy 5, 1, 11; Everett 3, 4, 10; DeRhodes 9, 2, 20; Dunlap 5, 3, 13; Youngstown Kitchens—29

Giardello Favored To Beat Ralph Jones

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, U. S. second-ranked middleweight and Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., will meet tonight in a televised (NBC) 10-round, Odds-makers see the bout as a likely repeat of Giardello's victory in 1954.

Giardello was expected to weigh in at 160 pounds and Jones at 155. The Philadelphian, undefeated in seven bouts this year, and Jones, with a 3-3-1 win-loss-draw record, both are aggressive fighters whose ring styles make a free-swinging bout probable.

The outcome tonight could swell or deflate a buildup of Giardello as the possible next challenger of Carmen Basilio for the middleweight crown in the event that Sugar Ray Robinson doesn't sign for a return bout.

Carmen Basilio Named Winner of Boxing Award

NEW YORK (U)—Carmen Basilio the world middleweight boxing champion, has been named winner of Ring Magazine's award of merit as "Fighter of the Year" for 1957.

Basilio previously had been voted the Eddie Neil Memorial Trophy as "Fighter of the Year" by the Boxing Writers Assn.

The determined fighter from Chittenden, N. Y. defended his welterweight crown against Johnny Saxton in February and then moved up to dethrone Sugar Ray Robinson in September.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

The four teams who have fallen as victims in the wake of the Quakers' present win streak showed quite a contrast in offensive ability.

Struthers displayed a weak scoring punch in amassing 35 points, none in the second period, against the Red and Black.

Columbiana and East Palestine scored most of their points around the basket on layups and close-in jump shots.

Akron Garfield pocketed almost all of their markers on distant jump shots rather than taking advantage of their height and working in for an easy field goal. Their 6-6 center failed to notch a field goal and ended up with but a single tally.

The Quakers on the other hand have shown more versatility in their scoring attack than their adversaries combined.

They possess the rebounding and tip in traits of Bill Pauline, Lou Slaby and John Sturgeon while at the same time being the owners of fine outside firing in Moe Meissner, Butch Platt and Darryl Adams.

Pauline also has been effective from the outside on one-hand sets whereas Salem's other two stalwarts, Slaby and Sturgeon, aren't as maneuverable "away" from the basket.

AGAINST GARFIELD, Co a ch John Cabas played three big men in his lineup. As a result, one of them had to move the ball along with Meissner and Platt. This was Pauline.

Even at times on shots when Pauline was on the outside, Slaby and Sturgeon provided the Quakers with their strength on the boards.

In future games against smaller teams, for example, should Pauline work the ball on the outside, the Quakers would have only one big man underneath.

This would be Sturgeon most likely. Slaby probably wouldn't be playing as Krichbaum or Adams would be in his place to give the Red and Black more speed.

A smaller team depends on swiftness and quickness of attack to offset their lack of rebounding.

Against Palestine and Columbiana it was evident that Pauline's beign on the outside hurt the locals. Many times, Salem would get away only one shot to have the rebound taken off by their foes.

AS YET THIS SEASON, the Quakers have not played a really tough opponent. They may, however, be up against one in New Philadelphia, their next opponent Jan. 3.

Last season, Salem beat the New Philly five 72-71 in the last three seconds on a field goal by Mark Fenton. At the time, the Salem Quakers had the home floor advantage over the New Philly Quakers.

The procedure next Friday will be reversed and, if coupled with more versatility in scoring from the Tuscarawas County Quakers, the Red and Black could very easily face their stiffest test thus far in the campaign.

Should the Quakers get past New Philadelphia, they won't face another "rough" opponent till Jan. 28 in Youngstown Rayen.

TONIGHT AT 7:30 in the local gym, the Salem High freshmen coached by Sam Priddy will be out to gain their first victory of the season in playing host to the Struthers high frosh.

The young Quakers have dropped all three previous encounters this season.

Fred Cope athletic director, said that student association tickets will be honored and that no-association members and parents will be charged a slight admission fee. Bill Megert, a 1954 graduate of

Australian Team Clinches Davis Cup

MELBOURNE (U)—Mervyn Rose a lefthanded onetime tennis outcast, and Malcolm Anderson clinched the Davis Cup for Australia in just 70 minutes today by crushing a makeshift U. S. doubles team of Vic Seixas and Barry Mackay 6-4, 6-4, 8-6.

The victory gave the Australians a 3-0 lead in the Challenge Round for amateur tennis' most coveted prize. Saturday's final two singles matches will be mere formalities.

Seixas is paired against Anderson while Mackay meets Ashley Cooper, who was replaced by Rose in the doubles.

So for the third straight year, and seventh in the past eight years, the Davis Cup remains here Down Under. The last U. S. victory was in 1954 when Seixas and Tony Trabert teamed to win it.

Originally, 44-year-old Gardner Mulloy was scheduled to team with Seixas in the doubles this year, but he looked bad in the semifinals against Belgium.

With his back to the wall, Capt. Billy Talbert replaced him with Mackay, 22, who created such a fine impression in his losing effort to Anderson in the opening singles match.

It proved to be a bad gamble. The Aussies concentrated their fire on the youthful national intercollegiate champion from Michigan and he suffered a case of the jitters. He was tense and it affected his volleying and big service.

Many of the more than 20,000 spectators were surprised at the feebleness of his delivery. Apparently he was merely trying to get the ball in play, well remembering the 20 double faults that were called on him yesterday.

This was a U. S. team unknown together in the space of 24 hours and it never did jell. Seixas was great in trying to cover his young partner from Dayton, Ohio, but the job was too much for any one man.

The Aussies, on the other hand, played with clocklike precision. As it turned out, their task was relatively easy.

Farmers Bank Squad Volleyball Champ

The Farmers Bank volleyball team emerged as the champion of the first round in the city volleyball league following matches held Thursday night in the Memorial Building.

The Bank team ended the first round with a 23-7 record while second place Youngstown Kitchens ended with a 228 record.

Kitchens beat the Bank squad 4-15, 13-11 and 15-11 last night.

In two other matches, the Bucks 15-10, 7-15, and 13-8 while Deming's took two of three from Electric Furnace 10-12, 12-7 and 15-13.

Kerr had 26 points, Schayes 22 and Conlin 18, while Clyde Lovellette led Cincinnati with 32.

Bill Sharman, who has taken over the scoring duties for the Celtics, had 44 points as the Knicks never got closer than 10 points.

Tom Heinsohn had 29 points for the Celts, while Richie Guerin topped New York with 22 and Ken Sears had 21.

Enters Hospital For Check-Up

Leahy to Announce Saturday Decision on Texas A&M Offer

CHICAGO (U)—All that stands between Frank Leahy and the Texas A&M football job is his stomach.

The former Notre Dame mentor, who retired nearly four years ago after suffering a near fatal attack of pancreatitis, was in Passavant Hospital today for a check-up.

If doctors think his stomach can withstand the strain of returning to coaching, the 49-year-old Leahy said he will announce Saturday acceptance of the Texas A&M job as football coach and athletic director.

Since he retired he has been treated for a stomach disorder unrelated to pancreatitis.

He arrived at the hospital from his Long Beach, Ind., home Thursday night. Bob McBride, who will be Leahy's assistant at Texas A&M, helped the coach to his bed.

Leahy is on crutches. He broke his ankle in a fall while carrying an armload of presents Christmas Eve.

Leahy revealed that present plans call for McBride to become head football coach at Texas A&M after three years. Leahy then would devote full time to the athletic directorship.

McBride, 34, played for Leahy at Notre Dame and served as his assistant there from 1949-1953. When Leahy retired, McBride left with him. In the last four years, McBride has been a contact man for a steel company.

"I was never so sincere about anything in my life when I said I would never coach again after leaving Notre Dame," Leahy said in an interview. "But I have missed football and the joy of being a teacher."

"There is more to life than making money. You must give yourself something. The thrill of coaching, being with young men, is something I failed to appreciate. Leahy said he felt better than he has for 10 years and that he was "99 per cent sure of taking the job."

"I expect the medical examination to eliminate the 1 per cent," he added.

'Keep Living!'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The making of New Year resolutions seems to be almost altogether a masculine problem, and most women are inclined to regard the whole business as utter nonsense.

The reason for this is simple. The average woman feels that if there is anything wrong with her she can fix it with a needle and thread, her cosmetic kit, or a visit to the beauty parlor. But feels no need at year's end to go through a long struggle with her conscience. Why should she? After all, if there is anything really wrong with her life, it isn't her fault — it's just some darned man to blame.

The male animal, on the other hand, knows he has a nature freckled with evil. Yearning for self-approval, he seizes paper and pen and makes a list of all the things he is going to do in the 12 months ahead to make himself a purer, finer man. Usually he might just as well write to Santa Claus — for all the good that results. For he sets himself impossible aspirations. No saint could do all the noble chores he sets for himself.

This is particularly true if he is a young man. For it is remarkable how a man's list of new year's resolutions changes and shortens as he grows older. In my own case, for example, I find that at 25 my list of new year resolves ran to three closely written pages. Picked at random, here are a few of the notations:

"Do 25 push-ups every morning."

"Don't fight in strange bar-rooms."

"Stay away from wild women."

Needless to say I won't repeat any of those resolutions this year.

At 46 I find them impossible, unnecessary — or both. I couldn't do a push-up except with the help of a couple of strong friends, and I now even have forgotten what I meant by writing about staying away from wild women.

At 35 my resolves had shrunk to a single page. Here are a couple of samples:

"Quit starting silly quarrels with wife."

"Stop yawning when the boss tells a funny story."

"Do something about falling hair."

None of these resolutions are worth repeating this year. My wife no longer now will permit me to start serious quarrels with her, let alone silly ones. Since, after 45, a man realizes fully how easily he can be replaced, I break a rib laughing when the boss says, "Have you heard this one?" And I have done all a man can do about falling hair — I watched it till it all hit the floor.

There is no need for a full pen of ink to set down by resolutions this year. At 46 the inexorable erosion of nature and slowing arteries turn a man into as much of a nobleman as he is every likely to become. It is the passage of time, not the growth of character, that turns most men into angels.

The only good resolution a man needs to make in middle age, written with an interior urgency apparent only to him, is this: "Keep living!"

Man Summoned to Serve On Two Court Juries

CHELMSFORD, Mass. (AP) — Edmund J. Welch has been summoned to serve on both the Superior Court and U. S. District Court juries, both beginning Jan. 6.

Superior Court Justice Charles E. Bolster said, "It's one in a million for a person to get a twin jury call."

Judge Bolster said he will excuse Welch if he wishes to serve in the federal court.

Woman's Body Found In Dayton Identified

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two men Thursday identified the body of a woman found outside a school here as Mrs. Thelma Thompson of Xenia.

The body was found earlier by a policeman making a routine check of the building.

Identification was made by a Dayton tavern owner, Samuel Slaughter, and Joe Clark, whom Slaughter said was dating the woman. Slaughter told police Clark had said he had not seen Mrs. Thompson since Monday.

A coroner's investigator said the woman had been dead about 12 hours before she was found at the foot of stairs leading to the basement of the Miami Chapel School on Dayton's West Side.

He said the woman had not been raped. An earlier report said she apparently was raped. The cause of death is undetermined.

CHRISTMAS CALM ENDS
ALGERS (AP) — Nationalist attacks in several portions of Algeria last night ended an uneasy Christmas calm.

A farm guard was killed, farm buildings valued at $30,000 were burned and a rebel attack with hand grenades in Oran killed an off-duty policeman, military authorities said.

SUES — Maura FitzGibbon, 21-year-old actress and model, has filed suit for $75,000 damages against the Los Angeles (Cal.) Athletic Club and police officer William Friedman, who arrested her and her companion, actor Errol Flynn, on a drunk charge when they attended a ball at the Athletic Club in October. The suit charged false arrest, false imprisonment, battery and malicious prosecution. Flynn has a similar suit pending for $250,000.

Family Identifies Confessed Killer As Missing Son

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man who told police he is Donald Mack, and that he killed a man here last January, has been identified. Relatives say he is Raynold J. Albert, 40, a missing Lakewood, Ohio, salesman for the Map and Globe Co. of Cleveland.

The identification was made Thursday by Albert's mother, Mrs. Clara Hensley, and her husband, Albert's step-father, at the Columbus Police Department.

Albert told police that during a drinking spree he hit a man. Thinking the man was dead, he said he fled west. He said he is originally from Phoenix and is a blacksmith.

He arrived in Columbus Christmas Eve after making up his mind in Phoenix to give himself up, he said. He went to a church and told a minister, then asked the minister to call police.

Police said they have no record of an unsolved murder in January. Mrs. Hensley talked to Albert earlier Thursday on the telephone. She said he disappeared Jan. 17 after failing to keep an appointment with an official of the Columbus Board of Education.

His abandoned station wagon was found later in a downtown alley and a nationwide search began. Albert earlier denied his identity but police said a fingerprint check with the FBI and photographs further identified him.

$35,000 Donated To Mount Union, YMCA

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Morgan Engineering Co., manufacturer of cranes and other heavy equipment, announced today gifts of $25,000 to the Alliance YMCA and $10,000 to Mt. Union College. That brings the YMCA within $12,000 of its $395,000 goal for a building addition, and the college within $25,000 of its $385,000 goal for a science building.

Strike Reduces Taxi Cab Service in Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A strike at the City Yellow Cab Co. Thursday night left Akron with about one-third of its normal taxi cab service.

Some 175 members of Teamster's Union Local 345 left their jobs after a walkout by 10 garage employees, in a dispute over hiring of a non-union maintenance worker.

REPORT ON HILLARY'S TREK
AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP) — The Ross Sea Committee reported today that Sir Edmund Hillary's party is 280 miles from the South Pole and may reach the U.S. station there by New Year's Day.

Committee secretary A.S. Helm said the five-man party, headed by the conqueror of Mt. Everest, covered another 40 miles during the night.

Helm again denied that there was any idea of a race between Hillary and British members of a commonwealth transantarctic expedition which is heading for the South Pole from the opposite direction in a trek completely across Antarctica.

31 PLANTS COMPLETED
SEOUL (AP) — The American aid program in Korea this year completed 31 major plants in 24 kinds of industry. More than 100 other plants are being built, a top U.S. aid official reported today.

More than $1,300,000,000 in aid funds was spent in the past four years, economic coordinator William E. Warne said in a year-end statement.

FORMER SPEAKER DIES
TOKYO (AP) — Takeshi Yamazaki, 71, former speaker of the Diet's (Parliament's) lower house, died of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home here today.

2 Young Men Bound Over to Grand Jury

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James Myers, 20, and Walter J. Jankowski, 28, both of Buffalo, N. Y., bound over to the grand jury Saturday on charges of intent to kill in the shooting of a highway patrolman, were again bound over to the grand jury Thursday on charges of grand larceny and burglary. Their combined bonds total $150,000.

Republic Steel to Call Back 3,500 Workers

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. today scheduled five open hearths for re-lighting on Sunday, and also will resume operations at its two Bessemer converters.

This will return some 3,500 workers to the payroll, and the resumption comes about a week earlier than had been expected. All 15 of Republic's open hearths were taken out of operation on Dec. 7 and the converters have been down this week.

Steel operations for the Youngstown district have been at 35 per cent of rated capacity.

COLUMBIANA

Chamber Spokesman Appears Before State Education Board

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Chamber of Commerce was represented by a former president, L. A. Way, at a hearing in Columbus this morning before a committee of the State Department of Education on a petition of residents of sections five and six of Fairfield Township for transfer from Fairfield - Waterford school district to Columbiana exempted village district.

The petition from sections five and six embraces the area in which is situated the new $4 million plant of the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co. at the western edge of town, a site selected from among 17 considered.

A counter petition from residents of the eastern edge of Lestonia seeks transfer from Fairfield-Waterford district to Lestonia district along with the Kaiser plant.

WILMER SWOPE, one of the petitioners for transfer from Fairfield-Waterford district to Columbiana district, was accompanied to the hearing by his attorney, Jason Brooks of East Liverpool. In August, 1956, the state board, in approving the transfer of a five-square-mile area east of town to Columbiana district, recommended dissolution of Fairfield-Waterford district with transfer of the Fairfield Township part of the district to Columbiana, and the Unity Township portion, embracing New Waterford, to the East Palestine district.

As the situation is now, the natural growth of Columbiana, as a result of the important industrial developments it has attracted is hemmed in by a separate school district, the eastern boundary of the west corporation line.

THE BOARD of Education of Columbiana exempted village district will open bids at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 22, at its office in Dixon School, for the purchase of the $225,000 issue of bonds for the addition of four rooms at Dixon School and modernization at the High School building. The board also advertises for bids for the deposit of active funds of the district in the amount of about $100,000 for two years from Jan. 15. Bids will be received by Wilmer Foerster at his office, 15 James St., and will be opened at noon, Monday, Jan. 13.

Columbiana merchants report holiday business this year not up to 1956, attributed in large measure to unemployment in the Youngstown area.

Donald B. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adin Miller, north of town on Canfield Road, 1948 graduate of Columbiana High School, received his doctor of philosophy degree in chemistry at Ohio State University last Friday. He left yesterday for Ponca City, Okla., where he will be a research chemist for the Continental Oil Co.

Jay Harold Yoder, son of the Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Yoder, another former student in Columbiana High School, received his master of arts degree at Ohio State, and will resume after the first of the year his duties as teacher of physical education in Mennonite College, Goshen, Ind.

Man Becomes Citizen After 57 Years in U. S.

HOUSTON, Tex. — John H. (Irish) Carroll, 83, said he jumped ship in Galveston in 1900 and has been in this country ever since, has finally become a citizen.

Carroll, born in Newfoundland, said he worked in many early East Texas oil fields. But when he tried to become a citizen last summer in California, he was told he would have to prove he was in this country before 1906.

He wrote the Houston Post from San Rafael, Calif., asking help and several oil field veterans saw the front-page story and wrote that they remembered him.

Their letter convinced the Immigration and Naturalization Service and Thursday Carroll wrote the Post, "I am now an American, thanks to your paper's assistance and also those others who unselfishly went to bat for me. Thanks again and hurrah for Texas."

Man Escapes Police After Robbery Attempt

MIDLETOWN, Ohio — A man, apparently cut from a leap through a plate glass door, was being sought today after having been found trying to open a drawer of a teller's cage in a branch of the First National Bank.

Merchant policeman Al Carr saw the man in the bank, on the east side of Middletown, about 10:30 Thursday night. Carr entered the bank and took him into custody, but the man leaped through the door while Carr was telephoning for police help.

Sgt. James Miller said blood was found around the shattered door.
